Scholarly Mentoring Agreement

(To be filled out at first meeting – provide a copy for Mentor, Mentee, and the JUMP Manager)

Mentor: _____

Mentee: _____

To ensure that the mentoring relationship that we are entering into is mutually beneficial, we agree to the following considerations:

1. Expectations/Conduct: (Will be unique to each relationship – modify as appropriate)

Mentee: I expect my Scholarly Mentor to guide me in my scholarly project. This may include suggestions for training, education, resume preparation, coaching, and assisting me in ways that will contribute to the progression of my academic career. I will be mindful of my mentor's time and commitment to my progress. I hope to gain insight from my mentor's expertise and knowledge in the academic medicine & science profession.

Additional comments:

Mentor: I expect my mentee to be committed to actively participating in their scholarly project. I will commit to act in my mentee's best interest with diplomacy and patience for the project development process. I will not make decisions for my mentee, but will strive to assist in the decision making process by providing knowledge I've gained in the scholarly project area. I will strive to include my mentee in networking opportunities and knowledge-building events, as appropriate.

Additional comments:

2. Goals:

We have discussed and set these objectives and goals for our mentoring relationship, understanding that they may be modified at any time, as deemed appropriate:

3. Confidentiality:

We will treat all communications as confidential, unless we agree otherwise.

4. Length of Mentoring Relationship:

The initial length of your mentoring relationship commitment is for a minimum of one year. However, we hope that your mentoring relationship will be productive and satisfying and that it will continue through the promotion of the mentee to the Associate Professor level. Having made these statements, we realize that every relationship will have different time frames. Use the objectives and expectations discussed in your initial meeting to frame what you expect a reasonable time frame may be for your mentoring relationship.
