

Application for Travel Award

The mission of the Center for Public Health Genomics (CPHG) is to encourage and facilitate research related to the genomics of diseases and disorders of significant personal and public health burden through the exchange of ideas, interdepartmental collaborations, and development of shared analytic tools and analysis pipelines. CPHG's focus is primarily on the quantitative and population-based aspects of genomics research and is complementary and synergistic to other institutional efforts. As part of its mission, the Center will provide travel awards for faculty, staff and students. Maximum amount of travel awards is $500.

Please complete the information below to request a travel award.

First Name: _____

Last Name: _____

Title: _____

Department: _____

Meeting: _____

Amount Requested: _____

Please indicate the reason for travel:

Presenting a talk. Title:

Presenting a poster. Title:

Participant

Briefly, what is the purpose for attendance and how much is the requested travel support?

Approval Signature: _____

Date: _____