Being an Effective Partner

One of the best ways to be an effective partner in your medical care and treatment is to be an informed patient. This "Patient's Bill of Rights and Responsibilities," taken from the formal document approved by the Medical Center's administration, is aimed at helping you, the patient, become an informed member of the health care team. During your stay, whenever you are confronted with something you don't understand — whether it's a diagnosis or a medical procedure or simply how to find the cafeteria — be sure to ask questions of your physician, nurse or any other staff member.
